Dear Stan:

As you know, [redacted] has joined me in proposing you for membership in the Metropolitan Club. Both of us have submitted the necessary papers to the Club Secretary and each of us has written to a number of your friends for supporting letters.

As far as I know, the initial phase of the paper work is now completed and all we can do is sit back and wait for the machinery to function. My experience is that this has been a somewhat slow process and that little can be done to speed it up.

Best regards.

Sincerely,
